Exporting Data to Microsoft Excel

In order to manipulate the data and present it in a format of your choosing, you may wish to work on the data in Microsoft Excel.

Before exporting the data, you must put it in a format that will make manipulation in Excel as easy as possible. Where a customer has a number of outstanding invoices the Customer Name is displayed on the first invoice. In order to ensure that when the data is exported to Excel it displays the customer name against every invoice (otherwise when sorting in Excel data may become disorganised) you must group-sort the data.

To group sort, right click on the Customer Name heading and you will be presented with the following box:

Left click on Group Sort, all of the Customer names will be filled in. The data is now ready to export

The easiest way to export to Microsoft Excel is to click on the Excel button on the toolbar (see above)

Having clicked this button you will be prompted to choose where you wish to save the Excel spreadsheet containing the data. It should automatically default to the Discoverer folder on you computer's C Drive. It is not advisable to save you file here; it is more advisable to save the file on the network in either your own home directory or your departmental directory. When saving the file, use a name you can recognise in future when finding & opening the file. It is advisable to save the file as "CCC AR Aged Debt COA today's date"

Please note: When exiting out of Discoverer, if you are prompted to save any changes, DO NOT click "Yes" and save the changes made!
